

Marketing Yourself

University of Bradford

Norcroft Centre, Richmond Road

17th November 2009, 6.00 - 8.30 pm

Marketing Yourself with Lisa Baxter

Norcroft Centre, University of Bradford, Richmond Road, 17th November 2009, 6.00 - 8.30 pm with refreshments

Lisa Baxter is an arts marketing and branding consultant whose clients include museums and galleries, national touring companies, festivals, theatres, local authorities, audience development agencies and charities. She is a member of the Arts Marketing Association, Association of Qualitative Research and Associate Member of the Market Research Society.

These sessions are free, but places are limited. To reserve your place contact a.rutherford@bradfordcollege.ac.uk

CREATIVE TOOLKIT

equipping you for your creative career

Fabric, in partnership with the University of Bradford's School of Media, and Bradford College's School of Arts and Media, has developed the 'Creative Toolkit' programme.

The 'Creative Toolkit' provides networking opportunities, coaching sessions, training events and seminars, all designed to equip individuals with the necessary skills for careers in the creative industries. This programme is supported by funding from the West Yorkshire Lifelong Learning Network.